Bikis Water Consultants, LLC Joins SGM

Glenwood Springs, CO, June 24, 2015—SGM, Western Colorado’s largest full-service engineering, surveying and consulting firm, announces that Bikis Water Consultants, LLC, a highly-regarded water resources and environmental consulting company headquartered in Durango, CO has recently joined the firm.

For the past three decades, SGM has specialized in providing engineering solutions for mountain, resort and rural communities in Western Colorado. The addition of Bikis Water Consultants (BWC) allows SGM to offer new services, while at the same time expand geographically to provide full-spectrum engineering and surveying to the Four Corners region. “SGM sees many similarities between Durango and the communities we serve successfully today. We also recognize that we deliver our best service through a combination of technical expertise, local knowledge and a local presence. We now have that local presence in Durango and are very happy to bring all of our clients BWC’s valuable expertise,” states Louis Meyer, SGM President & CEO.

Adds Eric Bikis, BWC founder, “We’ve built a strong reputation delivering high-quality water rights, water resources, and environmental consulting services throughout southwest Colorado. We look forward to expanding our reach as a part of SGM. Likewise, our clients will benefit from access to SGM’s full suite of engineering solutions. This is really a win-win for SGM and BWC clients alike.”
